Refuses to Discuss
Politics Until Better Posted

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 23.—Senator Ram Johnson of California, elected by his friends for the Republican presidential nomination in 1924, returned today from Europe on the Leviathan and tonight was preparing for delivery of a banquet to be given in his honor Wednesday night, a message to the American people on the nation's foreign relations. The senator, who spent four one-half months abroad, refused to discuss either domestic or foreign politics and declared at on Wednesday night he would set forth the attitude which in his humble opinion, America should adopt toward Europe. Pleading ignorance of first and information of late developments in the political situation home, Senator Johnson insisted he could make no comment on any until he had a chance to catch up. He categorically refused to say whether or not he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination in 1924 and asserted that his address on Wednesday would not embody any statement on that subject.

COUNTY TREASURER IN IOWA IS SHORT

(By The Associated Press)
CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, July 23.—A shortage of $5,000 in the accounts of A. C. Cherry, former county treasurer was reported today by J. I. Israel and E. C. A. Way, state examiners who have been examining the tax books of the county treasurer's office under Cherry's regime. Walter Barngrover, county attorney, is called into conference with the examiners. The books were in the hands of W. Holsinger, chief deputy during Cherry's term of office. It was reported discrepancies were found for the years 1920, 21 and 1922. Mr. Barngrover said he would take no action without word from the attorney general.

Armament Limitation Discussion Undesired

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, July 23.—(By The P. M.)—J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, moved a resolution today in favor of covering the International conference to discuss the limitation of armaments but the house rejected the proposal 286 to 169.

"Political stability and confidence, is essential to any business and until France, Italy and England obtain it they cannot hope to settle successfully with Germany," he said. "The economic situation of the individual is better than a year ago," he continued, "but government conditions have not improved."

"I have simply confirmed my opinion that we cannot help Europe out at present. She must go ahead and work out her own problem while we must work out our own problems over here."

"England is getting her house in order better than any other country. She is meeting her obligations and handling her affairs in a business like way but there is a growing sentiment in France to evade the debt issue, agriculturally France is in very good condition."

"There are now about 1,150,000 unemployed in England," Senator Walsh's View

New York, July 23.—Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts who has been traveling in Italy, France and England returned on the Leviathan today. He said he had not observed any chaos in Europe.

"The people seem to be prospering," he said, "and still believe the United States will cancel their war debts, we talk more about them than they do about us."

Referring to the Minnesota election he said it should be a good lesson both to the Republican and Democratic parties neither of which has done anything much for the farmers.

License Plate Unavailable
Cause for Executive Action

(By The Associated Press)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 23.—A local motorist who intends to make a tour of the west and who feared complications if he should drive his car without a license plate today was supplied by Governor T. C. Similar proclamation will be issued to all motorists who apply for them, the governor announced.

The unusual procedure was adopted because the state highway department, charged with issuing license plates is non-operative since its maintenance fund became exhausted with the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

ACTION TAKEN TO STOP RESISTANCE IN RUHR

BERLIN, July 23.—(By The Associated Press)—The inter-allied Rhineland high commission has issued a sweeping blanket ordinance, according to press dispatches received here aiming to throttle the German passive resistance in the Ruhr and Rhineland. The ordinance apparently leaves no loophole, but the Berlin newspapers declare it will serve only to stiffen the resistance. It provides extreme penalties for participation in propaganda or written or spoken opposition to the prevailing ordinances for interference with the commission's activities or otherwise organized resistance. Punishment is provided even in the case of offering a sack of potatoes as an inducement for holding out against the occupational authorities, according to the dispatches.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 23.—Rejection of all bids for next season's coal supply for twenty-eight state institutions and normal schools, was announced today by Lawrence H. Becherer, state superintendent of charities, who declared them all excessive and said other bids would be asked very soon. Coal for these institutions will cost about $1,000,000. Mr. Becherer did not indicate how excessive the bids were, explaining that the number of points of delivery and various kinds of coal needed made an adequate statement impossible at this time. "The bids were rejected," he said, "in line with the governor's general policy of retrenchment."

BABIES BORN ON SHIP WIN ENTRY INTO THE U. S.

Immigration Officer Could Not Refuse Gripping
Fingers
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 23.—"Babies born at sea on vessels flying foreign flags will be admitted to the United States despite any dismal old law," Immigration Commissioner Henry H. Curran said today. The commissioner was led to make this decision because he had two unique cases which called for a precedent. Sofia Przygon, of Polish stock, was born to Mrs. Sofia Przygon on July 18 while the steamship Lapland was bound for America. Being born on a British vessel she came under the quota of that country which was exhausted. Irene Troyanoski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Piotr Troyanoski, Poles, who had declared their intention of becoming Americans, and who were returning from a visit to their native land, first saw the light of day on the Belgian ship. She was placed under the Belgian quota.

Finger Grip Wins
"I looked at those two little babies in their cradles," said Mr. Curran, "and when they gripped my fingers and pleaded their cases, why, I didn't need any special court of inquiry. I just saw there was something bigger and finer than any dismal old law, and that I could use but one law in setting their cases. So I called the law the 'high law of innocence.'"

"Whenever babies with intentions of becoming Americans, just happen to make themselves known a few days before they see the Statue of Liberty, why they come in. That's all."

SURRENDERS AFTER VAIN ATTEMPT TO PROVE INNOCENCE

Convicted Thru Chance of Stealing His Own
Automobile

(By The Associated Press)
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 23.—(By A. P.)—Convicted on testimony of a chauffeur whom he had discharged, the greater part of his small fortune spent in a vain attempt at defense thru the courts, his business ruined and his reputation impaired, Edward Z. Linders, St. Louis, today voluntarily entered the Missouri State penitentiary convicted of the theft of his own automobile in St. Louis in 1919.

The chauffeur, Linders said, was arrested charged with the theft of 10 motor cars. He was promised a parole from a four year sentence if he would divulge the whereabouts of another car which he was said to have stolen. He took the officers to Linders' truck and declared that Linders had persuaded him to steal the car, Linders told the correspondent.

Appeals Case
Linders was charged with theft, tried and convicted. He appealed to the supreme court, but before the case was decided he replenished the car and proved that it was thru his papers now on file with the secretary of state.

Some time after the car had been returned to him, the supreme court not having the testimony in the replay case upheld the decision of the St. Louis court. Linders immediately drove thru to Jefferson City. This morning he secured his commitment papers from the clerk of the supreme court and entered the penitentiary.

Four El Dorado firms were reported short for a total of 577,000 shares while Texas firms were reported to be short of a much larger number. MANY CRIMINALS IN SPECTACULAR PRISON ESCAPE

Forty-One Leave, Seventeen Retaken,
One Killed

(By The Associated Press)
CHESTER, Ill., July 23.—(By the A. P.)—Seventeen of the 41 insane convicts who escaped from the State Hospital for the Chimical Insane after assaulting their guards here last night still were at large tonight, twenty-three of the men having been recaptured. One man, Joe Jackson, a negro of Chicago was slain in the outbreak.

Guards of the Southern Illinois penitentiary located near Chester, deputy sheriffs and the local police recaptured sixteen of the men today. Seven were taken shortly after the delivery last night.

It was reported tonight that several more of the fugitives were surrounded by a posse in the wooded tract north of here but the report could not be verified.

Citizens Guard Homes

Citizens not engaged in the hunt for the madmen, guarded their homes with firearms tonight in fear of the escaped prisoners, many of whom had been committed to the asylum for murders.

Women and children kept off the street today.

During the day thirteen of the prisoners were located in a nearby cemetery and a hot fight ensued before guards finally rounded them up and brought them back to the hospital. One of the convicts was captured in a tree within the city limits of Chester. Chief of Police John Janny is credited with having retaken four of the escaped prisoners.

Wore Working Garb

Leaders of the posse said the search for the men is difficult on account of the motley clothing worn by them. Most of the inmates were attired in working clothes instead of the asylum for murders. The condition of James Denny, a guard who was seriously stabbed when the convicts attacked their unarmed guards and battered a hole thru a large wire enclosure, was reported unchanged, as was that of Ralph Dilday, another guard who was wounded.

In accordance with rules at the institution the guards are not allowed even to carry sticks for protection.

Members of a coroner's jury were unable after an inquest here tonight to determine whether Jackson was killed by the guards or his fellow prisoners when the

The Navy Department is laying plans for prompt scrapping of the ships ruled out by the Washington armaments treaty. The belated French ratification of that agreement removed the last obstacle to carrying out its terms.

President Harding may now have the pleasure of seeing his cherished scheme carried into practical effect. Probably never before in the history of the world has there been such an extensive voluntary reduction of armaments, nor such a long practical step taken toward world peace. The sponsors of the Nobel peace prize ought to have no difficulty in making their award.

BOY SCOUT LEADERS

In New York City the other day a Boy Scout troop announced that it had room for three more members. The response was 150 applications in one day.

All over the country, it is said, Boy Scout organizations have to refuse thousands of applications for membership because they lack leaders. There is a constant demand for men of character and sympathy to become scoutmasters. One city alone has issued a recent call for 300 men to enter its Scoutmaster's School.

One field which ought to be yielding a rich harvest of such leaders appears to be failing its opportunity. What becomes of the hundreds of young men who graduate from Scout troops annually? When the organization was new its leaders necessarily had to be recruited from outside. Today, however, there are surely many men in their early twenties who have profited immensely in their own lives from their Boy Scout training who ought to be able and willing to turn about and give the rising generation of boys some of the fruits of their own happy experience.

AN AMERICAN ADMIRAL

The recent death of Rear Admiral Sigsbee, captain of the Maine at the time that battleship was blown up, brings to public attention a man whose career was varied and successful as well as full of service.

Admiral Sigsbee was a writer, a deep sea explorer, an inventor, a cartoonist, and an illustrator as well as an active naval officer.

He left Annapolis just in time to serve in the Civil war. He served at different times in naval squadrons in the West Gulf, the North Atlantic and Asiatic waters. He founded the course of mechanical draftsmanship at Annapolis. His invention of several instruments for deep sea sounding work brought him distinction abroad and in America. The instruments are still in use. He was in command of the fleet that brought the body of John Paul Jones back to this country from France. He was on duty at various times at the naval academy, with the hydrographic survey and with the coast survey.

Interest in the United States navy too often centers in the ships themselves and the public loses sight of the interesting lives of the men who run the ships.

LEADERS DECLARE OUTLOOK WARRANTS CONSTRUCTIVE ACTION

Are you worrying about the business outlook? If so, read these reassuring and optimistic statements by some of the nation's leading business men, taken from interviews in Forbes Magazine:

E. M. Herr, president, Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co.: The electrical industry is passing through a period of very great activity in practically all departments. The outlook for a continuation of prosperous business in this industry for the next six months is very good.

John D. Ryan, president, Anaconda Copper Co.: The demand for all kinds of manufactured copper and brass continues very large, and the manufacturing plants of the Anaconda company and its subsidiaries have more than two months' orders on their books, which is as large an amount of future business as it is reasonable to book.

I look to see the consumption of copper continue at a very satisfactory rate for at least the balance of this year, and think the increasing needs for copper and brass, particularly for electrical uses, will make continued good business for years ahead.

Charles H. Sabin, chairman, Guaranty Trust Co., New York: Normal or better business conditions are reported from almost every quarter and industry, and I can see no reason why a reasonable degree of continuing prosperity may not be expected in spite of unsettled conditions abroad and a somewhat unsatisfactory agricultural situation at home. Daniel Willard, president Baltimore & Ohio railroad: I think the outlook for the railroads is encouraging. As I view it, the railroad problem as it existed or was thought to exist six months ago has very largely disappeared. At that time it was clear that the net earnings of the railroads as a whole were far below the amount Congress had fixed as fair and in the public interest. Today there is reason to believe that the railroads as a whole may earn and probably will earn nearly if not quite the amount Congress has indicated would be fair and reasonable from the public standpoint.

Franklin Simon, head of Franklin Simon & Co., New York: The buying public is taking current retail prices very favorably for the reason that everybody is employed. It is making more money, has more to spend, and will not repeat the mistakes of 1920. There is no reason why prosperity should not remain—and improve.

WHAT CAN BE DONE TO HELP PRICE OF WHEAT

There is a fine chance for wheat raisers to do team work now under the direction of farm leaders. Henry W. Wallace, secretary of agriculture advises farmers to feed 20 per cent of the crop. O. E. Bradfute, president of A. F. B. F. advises farmers to hold 200 million bushels on their farms. Every farmer will feed some and buy a portion instead of loading it all on the market at the present time, the price ought to be helped if the law of supply and demand operates.—Farm Bureau.

BAND BENEFIT AT WHITE HALL SUCCESS

Ice Cream Social in Whiteside Park Netted Goodly Sum for White Hall Band.

White Hall, July 23.—By far the largest enterprise in the way of an ice cream social in White Hall was carried out on Whiteside park Saturday night in connection with the band concert. The event was arranged by a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. C. W. Dossel and Mrs. W. P. Lindsey as a band benefit and to ascertain the extent of the public interest in this growing local organization. The grounds and the band pagoda were illuminated and decorated most attractively. Twenty-five tables were scattered over the southern end of the park, and the start of the concert at 7:30 was the signal for the patronage to commence. It was early found that insufficient table room had been provided, but the returns indicated that about 1,400 people had been accommodated during the three hours that the concert was in progress, featuring vocal numbers by Mrs. Mabel Pearce Meisenbach of St. Louis, formerly of the St. Louis Municipal Opera chorus. Forty gallons of ice cream were consumed, of which amount fifteen gallons were donated by the Illinois Condensed Milk Co., and ten gallons by Christian Brothers, both local ice cream manufacturers.

First figures indicated that the band would realize $248.60, including five dollar donations from Charles Lyons, White Hall Sewer Pipe and Stoneware Co., H. W. Roodhouse, Mrs. Mame Winters and Seth N. Griswold. The donation feature resulted from the action of the C. I. P. S. Co., in providing funds for refreshments for the members of the band, twenty in number, and the announcements by W. P. Lindsey in his dynamic style may have resulted in still further donations in a quiet way.

The object was to finance the band in the matter of uniforms and more particularly to demonstrate public interest and support. This is thoroughly established, and the band is assured support not only in the matter of uniforms, but in a more general way in the ambitions of this organization. One consideration is to secure the services once a week of Bart Johnson of Jacksonville, an old personal friend of the older band men here, one of the wisest known and men in the state.

It is believed that this will be possible with favorable action by the members of the band, followed by negotiations with Mr. Johnson. The ladies who conducted the benefit here outlined will continue active work in band matters in a general way. It is likely that feature numbers will be provided with each concert in the future.

Leonard Outpunches His Foremost Rival

RINGSIDE, YANKEE STADIUM, New York, July 23.—(By The Associated Press)—Benny Leonard, king of the lightweight of the past six years, demonstrated conclusively tonight his undisputed title to the throne by knocking out his challenger, the Philadelphian, in a slashing, blistering 15-round match at the Yankee Stadium.

Before a crowd of more than 65,000 that paid a half million dollars to see the match, setting a new mark for championships, Leonard out-generalized, outboxed and outpunched his foremost rival from start to finish. He held the upper hand, had Tandler on the verge of a knockout at the close and the judges verdict in his favor at the finish was merely a formality.

Lacks Old Thrill
Spectacular as was the fight, it lacked the thrill, the suspense and evenness of their memorable battle a year ago at Boy's Thirty Acres where Leonard, hanging on at one stage, was barely able to gain a margin of victory.

Leonard fought with consummate skill. A master of ring tactics, he had his rugged southpaw challenger baffled by the speed and precision of his attack while at the same time he made futile most of Tandler's attempts on the offensive. The champion landed three blows to one in nearly every round.

Tender on the other hand seemed slow, lethargic by comparison to the titleholder. Blocked in his favorite method of attack—for which Leonard apparently had perfected a remarkable defense—the challenger was left with no effective weapon. He was wild repeatedly and tho he stood up gamely under a terrific battering several rounds, he seemed in much poorer form than when he gave Leonard a slashing struggle a year ago.

Leonard Learned Lesson
Leonard evidently had learned the lesson of his last fight with Tender. Instead of permitting his rival to get the jump the titleholder took the aggressive in the second round and quickly piled up a decisive margin on points.

He jumped in and around the challenger blocking, ducking and sparring while he shot jolting upper-cuts and hooks to the head and body. Tender, trying gamely to stem the tide, tried rushing, but the champion beat him at his own game.

The Fighters' Winnings
During the semi-final contest, matchmaker Jimmy Johnston of the Cromwell A. C., promoter of the bout, estimated the paid attendance at 65,000 and the net receipts $500,000. Leonard's share of the "gate" 35 percent would amount to $175,000 on this basis and Tender's portion 15 percent about $75,000.

The fight by rounds.
ROUND ONE: They came together slowly sparring. Tender missed a right lead. They clinched Leonard landed a light left to the jaw and took a left to the jaw. Tender backed away from Leonard's lead and the crowd roared. Leonard backed slowly to the ropes avoiding Tender's rush. They clinched in a neutral corner, moved into the center and clinched again. Tender sent his left into the champion's ribs but did little. They exchanged body blows in a clinch. Tender drove Leonard into his own corner with overhead lefts to the jaw and crowd grew excited. Leonard landed two light left jabs to the face. Tender rushed in again. The champion clinched. They were squaring away when the bell rang. Both men took a rest.

ROUND TWO: Tender continued to lead lashing out a right to the jaw. The champion fell into a clinch. They had a light exchange and clinched again. Tender rushed into Leonard's arms and took an overhand right to the jaw. Tender rushed again but Leonard grabbed him with his right hand and sent a volley of solid rights to the jaw. Tender drove the champion to the ropes where the challenger's advantage Leonard jabbed stiffly with his lefts and then crossed twice hard with his left to the jaw. Leonard resumed the defensive, meeting next Tender's rush with a stiff right to the head. He then caught the challenger with left jab and pounded him with his right. Tender walked into a trap in a neutral corner, taking blows from both hands when Leonard laced out. It was a fast round.

ROUND THREE: They sparred in the center of the ring Tender again taking the lead at Leonard's pleasure. They had a furious exchange of body blows, moved to the center of the ring and clinched. Tender led again, catching Leonard with his deadly left, pounding him with his left which he moved in a horizontal cross fire from belt to head and back again. In the next exchange the champion fared better, landing short right uppercuts, Leonard caught Tender with a hard right left to the jaw and sent him spinning to the ropes. Tender landed a light right and a hard left to the jaw and the champion sunk a right into Tender's mid-rib. Ben landed two hard rights to the body and hooked two lefts to the head, and the round ended.

ing two long uppercuts to the jaw. They did considerable dancing, then Leonard jolted Tender with a left hook to the jaw and repeated. Leonard landed twice heavily to the head in a clinch and then soaked Tender in the left eye. Tender landed two hard lefts to the head. Leonard sent two short rights to the body that hurt. Tender left-hooked the champion's jaw and then shot a right below the heart. Leonard caught the challenger with two stiff rights to the jaw.

ROUND FIVE: Leonard met Tender's rush and they exchanged evenly. Leonard was in a clinch and then hooked Tender's right. Leonard hooked a right to Tender's jaw and then whipped two upper cuts to the jaw. Tender landed a left to the mouth and then hooked his left to the breast. The champion's right bothered Tender. Tender caught Leonard with a hard left to the belt and then took a left cross to the head. They rushed into a stiff body exchange as the bell rang.

ROUND SIX: The majority of experts agreed that the champion was leading by a comfortable margin at this stage. They met in the center and clinched. Leonard hooked a left to the jaw a moment later. Tender's right was short and Leonard slashed him with a left to the head before they clinched. Then the champion whipped his right to the body and bothered Tender with a left jab. Leonard had much the better of a clinch sending both hands to the jaws. Leonard backed to the ropes for a rest and stepped aside when Tender moved up allowing the latter to slip thru the rope. When the latter regained his equilibrium they shook hands in the center of the ring. Leonard sent hard rights to the jaw and the body and had no difficulty in avoiding Tender's left lead. The champion appeared the least worried as they backed away from a tight exchange in answer to the gong.

ROUND SEVEN: They sparred for a second after bell then both fell away. Leonard gave an opening and Tender rushed in with a light left to the jaw. Leonard relaxed for a moment and then whipped out two rights to the jaw. Tender turned away and Leonard whipped two rights to his exposed body. Leonard dug his right under Tender's ribs. They exchanged lightly and when they came together Leonard sunk two more hard rights just above the belt line. Tender again walked into the neutral corner trap where he was caught with a two handed attack to the head. Tender was making a poor showing. He fell back against the ropes and Leonard used both hands to the jaw some more. They sparred lightly as the bell rang.

ROUND EIGHT: Tender's manager used force in his talk during the intermission for the champion had a wide margin by now. Evidently Tender took the advice for he rushed twice to the lead but his accuracy was poor as before and Leonard took a respite. The referee cautioned Tender for using the rabbit punch. Leonard caught Tender with hard rights to the jaw and sent in a few more when Tender clinched. Tender landed two short uppercuts and then took two body blows. Tender punched the champion's kidneys. Tender sent a terrific right into the stomach which gave a resounding plump. Leonard jabbed with his right. Leonard caught Tender with three right crosses in the champion's corner and the challenger appeared worried when the bell rang.

ROUND NINE: Tender's handlers kneaded his muscles and Leonard's continued to offer advice. Tender landed lightly with his right. They sparred around the ring and then clinched. Leonard's left was bothersome and Tender clinched. Tender walked into a straight left and then was cautioned for hitting low with the same hand. The champion blocked him effectively in two clinches. Tender walked into Leonard's stiff right jolts and the champion crossed and hooked. Tender became more inaccurate and missing with his left again fell partly thru the ropes. Leonard pounded Tender's body with his right and then forced the challenger away by sending the same hand to the jaw. Leonard uppercut sharply with his right and then lashed his right to the challenger's stomach. Leonard pounded some more at the body. They were separated at the bell.

ROUND TEN: The champion revolved around the challenger who stood in the center of the ring. Leonard backed into a neutral corner and landed swiftly two hard rights to the head. Leonard missed a short straight uppercut. They clinched. Leonard easily ducked Tender's right and stopped his next sally by holding out his left hand. Tender was again unsuccessful in trying to break thru Leonard's defense, stopping more jabs and falling into a clinch. Leonard right hooked and sent a right uppercut to the jaw in close quarters. They sparred. Leonard smashed Tender on the jaw with a hard right, and they were sparring when the round ended.

his right. Tender caught the champion and hooked his left to the body. They clinched. They boxed and danced about. Then they sparred. Then Leonard laced out with his left and absorbed Tender's advice with a clinch. They exchanged short body blows. They backed away and did it again. Another similar exchange was followed with light sparring. Leonard stopped Tender's next advance by sticking his left hand under Tender's arm pit, pushing him partly to the floor. The crowd laughed and whistled at Tender's inability to get beyond Leonard's left jabs with which he protected his wide lead. Tender walked disgustedly to his corner as the bell rang.

ROUND TWELVE: They sparred cleverly. They clinched. They locked their left arms and exchanged rights to the body. Tender was short four times with an overhand right. Tender landed a light left, two light rights and another light left. Tender stopped short and punched his adversary's head with his right and then allowed him to clinch. Leonard was having a lot of fun with his left jab but he was serious enough. Leonard speedily countered Tender's advance with a right to the body but unable to land an uppercut in a clinch. They were sparring when the bell stopped them.

ROUND THIRTEEN: Tender's handlers were excited and doused newspaper men in their corner with water. The fighters walked into a clinch. Leonard hooked with his left and then hooked Tender with his right to the jaw. He smashed Tender's mouth with a battering right. Leonard uppercut sharply with his right and then pushed Tender away. They clinched slothfully. Leonard whipped a right to the chest and they clinched. Tender ducked two easy rights and then fell against the ropes for an opportunity to rub his nose. Leonard hooked two hard rights to the head. He then sent a hard right to the jaw and then a hard left. He smashed left to the body which sent Tender to the floor. The champion sprang to this advantage like a cat but it was a question of whether Tender slipped. Leonard sprang at him punching to both body and jaw and Tender fought back. One of his blows was low and Leonard objected to the referee. The bell rang then and Leonard's manager stepped into the ring protesting.

ROUND FOURTEEN: They clinched. Leonard led lightly with a right. Tender landed a left to the kidneys in a clinch. Leonard drove both fists to the body in a short clinch. Tender was short with a lead and the momentum spun him around. Leonard held him up with his right hand. They boxed around and then Leonard landed stiff blows to the head. Tender appeared slightly groggy and the champion was anxious for a knockout. Tender covered his face with his two fists while Leonard flailed him briefly. Leonard whipped out his right like a pistol grooved to its mark. He landed it three times and then crossed with his left. Leonard was punching when the bell stopped him.

ROUND FIFTEEN: They clinched after shaking hands. Tender became active but walked into a hard right and left swing while a slight cut beneath his left eye began to bleed. Leonard smashed a straight to Tender's face and drove him to the ropes. A light exchange as they clinched in the middle of the ring. Leonard sent a hard right to the stomach and two hard rights to the mouth that brought a stream of blood. The crowd was yelling now. Leonard pounded rights and lefts to the body and then to the head. He flayed Tender with all he had. He pounded Tender with both hands and had Tender reeling. Tender's seconds shouted to him to hold up his hands. In the last ten seconds they were in a clinch.

Mrs. Hiner's Housework Like Child's Play Now

"I was even feeling too poorly to do my housework but Tanlac has restored my health so completely that it's like child's play to me now," states Mrs. Mae Hiner, 222 Atlantic street Peoria Heights, Peoria, Ill.

"For years I suffered from stomach trouble and a general run-down condition. A poor appetite took all the pleasure out of my meals, and for hours after meals I was miserable from indigestion and gas. Bilious attacks and splitting headaches were part of my troubles, too, and I felt so bad I couldn't remain on my feet long at a time.

"So many of my neighbors were praising Tanlac that I began taking it, too, and now I can't praise it enough myself. I have taken only four bottles so far, two bottles less than the full treatment, but my troubles are entirely gone, and I am enjoying the best of health. No one thinks more of Tanlac than I do."

Bernhardt's Eight Girdles.
Sarah Bernhardt had an irresistible fascination for artists, and among those who fell under the spell was Sir Edward Burne-Jones.
One of his letters, published in his
"Memorials," contains an amusing
reference to Bernhardt's Cleopatra.
The "serpent of old Nile" would wear a dress in the play, he said,
so bejeweled that, in comparison with her, Theodora—another of Bernhardt's parts—"would look like poor Mrs. Booth. Eight girdles she is to wear, and I have just maddened myself thinking how eight girdles could be worn. It wouldn't be fair to call a necklace a girdle
or a garter."

MIRROR IN PROPER PLACE

Matter to Which Housewife Should Give Careful Attention Before Making Final Decision.

A mirror in a dull gold frame is a very decorative and useful item in any furnishing scheme, but the position which it is to adorn must be carefully thought out. A long mirror at the end of a narrow, dark hall will do wonders towards giving a sense of light and space, especially if it runs right down to the floor, with a few flowers in an old brass pot standing in front of it.

A mirror along one side of the bath will protect the walls and impart an air of cleanliness to a stuffy bathroom—an apartment which in small flats so frequently suffers from lack of light and air. Over the drawing room mantelpiece is a favorite place for a large mirror,
but it is rather an ordinary idea,
and may be improved by placing the looking-glass across one corner of the room, in front of a small table bearing old china. If this corner is directly opposite the door,
so much the better; it will give
quite a vista to the room.

Never hang a mirror on the wall facing the head of the bed. It will irritate the occupant, and throw any light it catches straight into the eyes.

At the head of a staircase a mirror is perhaps found of the greatest advantage, and when it hangs in such a position there should be nothing else near it, and the walls should be either plainly distempered or papered.

DAY OF THE GOLDEN WEST

Justice Administered in Somewhat Crude Fashion After the Conquest of Mexico.

A justice of the Supreme court, mounted on horseback and armed with a Winchester, was O. Henry's definition of a juror, and, barring the horse and the Winchester, the same would apply to an alcalde of the old California days. This refers particularly to the powers of the American alcaldes who came in after the conquest of Mexico.
Here is one of the many amusing incidents that happened, John L.
Considine writes in Adventure Magazine:

Lawyer Leander Quint of Sonora,
for whom Alcalde R. C. Barry entertained a violent dislike, had lost
the first three fingers of his right hand. In argument he would ges-ticulate violently with this hand, extending the remaining thumb and little finger in a manner that annoyed Barry excessively. After a trial in which Barry had as usual ruled against him, Quint exclaimed:
"Judge, I never did stand any chance in your court!"

"No, sir," replied Barry, "and you never shall. When a man comes into court and wriggles his fingers and rolls up his eyes as you do, he can't have any show here.
In Texas, we have man-traps, sir, that cost thieves their fingers. It looks—suspicious, sir. It looks —suspicious; but I hope it's all right."

Sport in Ancient Egypt.
Egyptians were the oldest admirers of sport. From the pictures on temple walls and tombs one learns
how they spent their days in work, religious rites or pleasure. Girls played ball, sitting on the backs of their girl friends. They also danced to the rhythm of songs, which were accompanied by hand clapping. Boys ran races, balanced on beams or stood on their heads.
They tried their skill in throwing pointed sticks at a wooden stump
and had themselves blindfolded, beaten by their comrades, and then guessed who was beating them.

Fencing was done with a light wooden saber; a shieldlike piece of wood was fastened to the lower arm during the combat. Pictures of wrestling matches along the tomb walls of Beni Hassan would illustrate a modern textbook of wrestling.

Early Architecture.
Imhotep was the earliest architect to put up a building of stone masonry. He flourished just after 3000 B. C., and his name deserves far greater fame than those of the early kings or conquerors themselves.

The erection of Imhotep's terraced buildings was but a step toward the construction of a pyramid. A generation later, so rapid was the progress, the king's architects were building the great pyramid of Ghizeh (2800 B. C.). From the earliest piece of stone masonry to the construction of the great pyramid less than a century and a half elapsed. Most of this advance was made during the Thirtieth century, B. C. Such rapid progress in control of mechanical power can be found in no other period of the world's history until the Nineteenth century.

Put Reference Books to Work.
In many a household children
seem entirely ignorant of the usefulness of reference books of all sorts. One housewife made a discovery not long ago, one which she passes on as a help to parents whose children are in school. Here
is her story:

"After the son of the house had asked his father the meaning of four different words the father asked why he had bought an un-abridged dictionary in ten volumes
if he must still go on defining words.
"But, daddy," the boy protested,
"those big books are packed on the shelf so tight that I can scarcely drag one out." It may be that in other homes reference books are packed on the shelves too tightly or too high up to be of much service."

Poultry and hens' eggs were in addition to the human cuisine,
spite of the large part they no
play in our dietary, says H. J.
Wells, in a footnote in his "T Outline of History." The hen not mentioned in the Old Testament, although there is allusion to about 1500 B. C., the only fow
in the world were jungle denize

of jungle cocks is noted by Glasfu
in his accounts of tiger shooting the invariable preliminary of day
in the African jungle.

Probably, poultry were first mesticated in Burma, says the author. They got to China, accord-to records, only about 1100 B.
They reached Greece via Persia

New Testament the crowing of

RUMORED AVENUE OF VILLA PLANNED

EL PASO, Tex., July 23.—Rumors which have prevailed along the border since news of the slaying of Francisco Villa, Mexican bandit leader who became an international character following his spectacular raid on Columbus during his active campaign against General Carranza, that followers of the dead bandit would organize in pursuit of the murderers, were given strength by reports today from Mexico City that Nicolas Fernandez, Villa lieutenant, had returned to Canutillo with such an object in mind. Government troops are said to be firmly established at Parral, a city which changed hands many times in revolutionary movements of the last few years. Parral is near Canutillo and Villa's body rests there.

PURE BRED HORSES NEED GOOD PASTURE

Urbana.—Good pasture is absolutely essential to the production of pure-bred draft fillies in Illinois or where similar conditions exist, according to experiments conducted by the University of Illinois.

Good pasture and legume roughages, such as alfalfa, may constitute from one-half to one-third of the roughage fed, the experiments show. The remainder should consist of carbonaceous roughage such as oat hay, oat straw, or perhaps timothy hay or corn stover.

"Although pasture and legume roughages are essential, it is certain that the success of growing these fillies was largely due to the use of nutritious pasture of blue grass with some timothy orchard grass and clovers," said an accompanying statement.

"From experience in the three trials conducted at this station, it has been found best to feed grain in comparatively small amounts during all season rather than to feed it in large quantities at one time and discontinue it at another.

"Of the grain rations fed, the one composed of 75 per cent crushed oats and 25 per cent bran proved most satisfactory. The grain ration composed largely of corn fed with alfalfa hay and pasture is adequate for growth, it does not, according to the experiments produce fillies of such desirable quality as a ration in which corn is reduced or omitted.

FLOOD PROTECTION IS PLANNED BY ILLINOIS

Springfield.—The state's efforts to prevent future floods in the Illinois river is expressed by an appropriation of $250,000 for the construction of levees around Beardstown, and $10,000 for similar work at Naples. The bill carrying these sums has been sent to the secretary of state by Governor Small without his signature, thus becoming a law. The appropriation will go to the department of Public Works and Buildings. The governor released six other bills without his signature, this week, all of them concerning matters of local or minor interest.

D. C. Diltz, Chicago & Alton agent, made a trip to Springfield Sunday for a call at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Fitch. George Orear was a city visitor from east of town yesterday.

GENERAL BASIC RATION FOR PIGS

Urbana.—Corn should be the basic ration for pigs under most conditions in Illinois, according to a statement issued by J. B. Rice of the University of Illinois. "The cheapest protein supplements for corn are usually milk, tankage and pasture," said Mr. Rice. "Barley is about 90 per cent as valuable per bushel. Oats can be fed profitably in limited quantities where less than one-half as valuable as corn per bushel. Neither feed, however, is so palatable as corn nor will they produce as rapid gains.

"Commercial mixed feeds are usually too high in price to feed with profit. Substitutes for corn containing less than 15 per cent crude protein will in most cases be less valuable than corn. Protein supplements containing more than 15 per cent crude protein are usually higher priced supplements in the ration for producing pork than milk, tankage, pasture and sometimes oil meal.

"Pasture crops should be used whenever possible. Although they do not save as much grain as is generally thought, they are valuable in developing the body framework, increasing vigor and preventing disease.

ABANDONED MINE NOW DEATH TRAP

MOLINE.—Miners prospecting for coal on the Peter Christian farm, six miles from Moline have discovered what they claim is a veritable death trap in an abandoned shaft forming a part of the old Silvis mine operated about 40 years ago. The discovery, it is said, explains the death of three boys who were killed in almost identical manner a few years ago in a similar trap located a short distance from the Christian mine.

The air in the shaft is said to be literally dead, dealing death to all who breathe it. The three boys, who were found dead near the mine, were hunting for berries in the bushes in the vicinity. Groundhogs, flies and other animals and insects have been found dead by the hundreds near the old shaft.

POLITICAL EMBROGLIO Manila, P. I., July 23. (By A. P.)—The split between Governor-General Leonard Wood and Manuel Quezon, which resulted in the resignation of all leading officials of the Philippine government, has developed into a local political partisan embroglio, with the democrats party supporting Governor Wood and the Collectivists party opposing him, according to political leaders here today.

The democrats leaders today adopted resolutions opposing the joining of the parliamentary mission, which is to leave for Washington, D. C., within the next two weeks to lay the facts of the Filipino controversy before President Harding.

COUNCIL HELD BRIEF
SESSION MONDAY

Ald. McGinnis Elected Mayor Pro-tem—East State Street Improvement Ordinance Read—American Legion Seeks Burial Plot for Ex-Servicemen

The city council met Monday night in a brief session. M. McGinnis was chosen mayor pro-tem in the absence of Mayor Crabtree and Mayor Pro-tem Rowe. Minutes of the regular and special meetings were read and approved and a petition was received from North Diamond street property owners protesting against the proposed side walk on Diamond street between the Wabash railroad and Independence avenue.

T. W. Wagner spoke in behalf of the property owners. Alderman Chumley of the sidewalk committee said he had examined the property and believed the objections were well founded.

Mayor McGinnis assured Mr. Wagner that no action would be taken until the next meeting of the council so that there will be further opportunity for the considering of the objections.

Roll call showed Aldermen Blesse, Chumley, Fairbank, Harmon and McGinnis present. Claims were ordered paid and an ordinance prepared by the board of local improvement for the East State street pavement improvement No. 4 was given a first reading. The estimate of City Engineer E. M. Henderson of the cost of the improvement was $13,994.

Alderman Harmon stated that at a recent meeting of the American Legion the suggestion was made that a plot should be secured in one of the cemeteries for the burial of deceased indigent ex-servicemen. Recently an ex-serviceman who died without funds was buried in the Pottery field.

Mayor McGinnis suggested that a committee should be appointed from the council for conference with the cemetery commission and that a like committee from the Legion might be named. The council committee as appointed by the mayor pro-tem includes Aldermen Harmon, Chumley and Fairbank.

City Attorney Walter Bellatti made a report with reference to an error in the record of special tax assessment of property on East College avenue, belonging to Joseph Estaque. He indicated that the proper procedure for Mr. Estaque and the other property owners interested would be to join in the petition.

When the council adjourned it was until next Monday night, in order to act upon ordinances which the board of local improvements will present.

MISS ANN FOWLER
HAS NEW POSITION

Miss Ann Fowler, who was until recently secretary of the Social Service League here, has taken a position along the same lines at Ann Arbor, Michigan, according to a message received by Miss Mabel Cutler, also a social service worker.

Miss Fowler feels that the new job is something of a promotion as Ann Arbor is a larger city than Jacksonville, and as she will instruct classes in social service work in the University of Michigan, located there. Her title is "Superintendent of Family Welfare," and she will work along the lines her title implies.

HEATING CONTRACT
GIVEN LOCAL FIRM

Sheehan and McNamara of this city have been awarded the contract for the heating plant of the new Trinity Lutheran church at Arenzville. The building will be heated by a hot water system and radiators will be arranged to heat the basement as well as the auditorium.

MAKES NEW RECORD
ON MUNICIPAL LINKS

Jack Keywood Local Pro., Goes Out and Back in 67, Beating Former Score by One Stroke Less.

A wonderful golf record was established by Jack Keywood professional golfer while playing in a 4 ball foursome at Nichols park Sunday afternoon. Mr. Keywood went out in 35 and came home in 32, making the round trip in 67, which is one better than his and the course record of 68, made a year ago. This new mark is due to the long driving and deadly approaches of the record holder.

Keywood undoubtedly owes a part of his great ability in his chosen sport to the fact that he has been virtually brought up on the game. He has played ever since he became old enough to hold a club, and his four years of war service in the British navy did not perceptibly injure his skill.

At present a younger brother holds the distinction of being the youngest professional golfer in England.

Mr. Keywood's record breaking score was:

In 3 4 3 4 4 3 4 3—Total 32

RAILWAY OFFICIALS
IN CONFERENCE HERE

Meet in City to Discuss Proposed Consolidation of Burlington and Alton Stations—No Definite Arrangements Made. Brief.

Railroad officials of the Burlington and Alton railroads met again officially in Jacksonville yesterday. And although no definite statements were given out, it is generally understood that they were again in conference over the proposed consolidation project for the Jacksonville stations. At their last visit it was strongly rumored that the consolidation had evidently been considered favorably and it is probable that the meeting yesterday was to further details looking towards the ultimate consolidation of the stations, but no statements have been issued which would furnish any information as to any approximate date when the plans will be completed.

Those present for the conference were: W. H. Penrith, General Superintendent, S. P. Henderson, Superintendent, and D. J. Deasy, trainmaster all of the C and A., with headquarters in Jacksonville; J. H. Aydelott, General Superintendent of Galesburg and C. J. Conrad, trainmaster, of Beardstown, both of the Burlington system.

CHRISTIAN MANHOOD
THEME AT NORTHMINSTER

Rev. Ernest Fernandes occupied the pulpit at Northminster church Sunday morning. His theme to overcome the great "Christian Manhood, the Power to Resist and Overcome Temptation." He said that he would choose his text from one of the Apostle Paul's parenthetical sayings. Generally what is put in parentheses is of minor importance, but not so with the great apostle to the Gentiles. The text was Romans 5:17 and the discourse was an earnest plea for complete righteousness. It is not enough to overcome the great temptations of the day; forgery, banditry, embezzlement and the like. Our daily conduct should be carefully guarded; the hasty word, the cross look, the impatient ways, indifference to duty, failure to attend the services at the house of God and a thousand other minor errors the true Christian should earnestly endeavor to avoid.

We have always one ready to help us in all our efforts to do right; the power is infinite and love unbounded. After the conquest comes rest and the welcome to the good and faithful servant is ample reward for all our battles here on earth.

CENTENARY PASTOR
HOME FROM SCHOOL

Rev. C. D. Robertson Returns From Pastoral School at Bloomington—Tells of Work Done There.

The Rev. C. D. Robertson, pastor of Centenary M. E. church has returned from Bloomington where he acted as Dean of the Intinerant Theology summer school that was held from July 10th to 20th. The school is designed to instruct in theology those ministers who have not had the advantage of seminary training.

The staff that Mr. Robertson headed was highly complimented. The Educational Director, Rev. Allan McRossie, said that the instruction given was equal that of any college or seminary. All of the teachers were seminary graduates themselves. The two courses of special lectures that were given were by two of the most noted Methodist divines in the country. They were Prof. Edward Lewis of the Drew School of Theology, and the Rev. John W. Langdale pastor of New York avenue church of Brooklyn N. Y.

One of the most interesting ministers among the 23 students was the Rev. Mrs. Dudman of the Central Illinois conference, who is one of the few women in America who are ordained pastors of churches. She is helping her son thru Illinois Wesleyan university at Bloomington.

Ministers present known by local people were: the Rev. I. W. Holmes of Mercedia and Harry Evans a former Illinois college student.

WOMEN OF THE OLD SOUTH

Had by No Means a Life of Idleness, Since Their Domestic Duties Were Many.

There is still widespread conception that the wives of the ante-bellum southern planters led a life of ease and idleness. Such was far from the truth, says a writer in the New York Sun. Woman played a vital part in the old southern economic system, a role which kept her busy and loaded her with grave responsibilities.

She was the head of the domestic side of the plantation life. Not only did she supervise the household of the mansion, but she had to look after the servants' quarters as well. As for the slaves, their food, their clothing, their health were under her care.

It is related that a distinguished foreign diplomat was astonished, when visiting Mount Vernon, to find Mrs. Washington surrounded by negro girls, from ten to fifteen years old, busily knitting stockings for the slaves of the plantation.

Thus was the sphere of the southern woman sharply defined. It was an important sphere, so far as it went, but it was dependent upon the plantation system on which it grew. After the freeing of the slaves and the industrial revolution which it produced, the women of the South found themselves bereft of the occupation for which they were bred.

CARRY MILK IN BASKETS

Nature of Filipino Deliverers' Work Has Led to Their Superb Physical Development.

Treading softly, the Manila milkman delivers freshly foaming carabao milk in tall Spanish wine bottles at his customers' front doors long before sunrise.

Unlike the American milkman, he has no equipment in which to transport his wares, but carries them in two wicker baskets slung from the ends of a bamboo pole which is laid across the shoulders through a wooden neck yoke.

Carabao milk is said to be delicious when served in coffee or chocolate, surpassing in flavor both cows' and goats' milk.

Because of their early morning track work, Filipino milkmen are superior physically to any other type of workmen in the islands, with powerful leg muscles and broad, strong shoulders.

Horseferry Road. Visitors to London will remember a street back of Westminster Abbey, which was called Horseferry road. It leads to a bridge across the Thames and once had the only horse ferry allowed in London, a monopoly granted to the archbishops of Canterbury, and when most of the traffic of the old ferry was diverted by the opening of Westminster bridge, the see of Canterbury was granted $11,000 compensation for loss of revenue. The old ferry, which continued to ply until the erection of Lambeth bridge, 60 years ago, had a place in English history, for by it James II and his consort, passed from Whitehall to the Surrey side one dark night in December, 1688, en route for France and exile. The king threw the great seat into the river from the ferryboat during the crossing. It was picked up by a fisherman and given to William of Orange.

Carvings as Guides to Water. In the country around Saline valley, Inyo county, Cal., Indian rock carvings can still be seen, and many whites know how to read them to the extent of using them as guides to water. In eastern Arizona these rock carvings were made by the present-day Hopi descended. This is proved by the similarity between these pictures and those made in modern times by the Hopi, and by the fact that the sacred snake, worshiped by the Hopi for many centuries, was dug up in a ruin near Springerville. The Blackfeet have a tradition that many years ago a delegation was sent south to the land of the Hopi, by their head medicine man, to worship and pray before his sandstone figure, for the return of the buffalo herds to the Blackfoot country, after a migration.

Cursed to Wander Over Earth. People without a country, the gypsies roam to all four corners of the earth. It is said that many years ago a Moslem saint of Turkey cursed the people with these words: "May you never more enter or belong to the 77½ races of the earth, but as outcasts be scattered, homeless and wretched and poor; ever wandering and toiling, never realizing wealth, never enjoying the fruits of your labor, and never acquiring the esteem of mankind." The curse didn't work in all its particulars. For instance, a lot of gypsies are not poor. It is said that many have pretty fair bank accounts. And the saint cursed them with everlasting toil. But who ever saw a gypsy work?

The Congressional Record. The Congressional Record, a printed journal of the daily proceedings of congress, has been issued since 1790. Up to that time only secret sessions were held by the senate, but after that date all regular sessions were open to the public and publication was required except in the case of "executive sessions." Until 1824 this publication was known as the "Annals of Congress"; from 1825 to 1837 as the "Register of Debates"; from 1837 to 1874 as the "Congressional Globe." In the latter year it became the "Congressional Record."

Mr. Scott does not recall just how he was hurt as he has no remembrance of having struck any obstruction while diving, but found that he was injured in the neck and shoulders when he tried to come out of the lake.

He was brought to Our Saviour's hospital Sunday evening and it was thought for a time that his neck was broken, but an X-ray picture relieved that fear. Mr. Scott was resting very much easier last night and no serious results are expected now as a result of the injury.

MYERS BROTHERS DEFEATED INDEES

Springfield Team Exciting Game by Score of 6 to 3—Contest Went Ten Innings

Myers Brothers team of Springfield took an exciting ten inning game from Frank Smith's Indees at South Side park Sunday, the final score being 6 to 3.

It was the first defeat sustained by Ira Fanning since he became the regular pitcher for the locals several weeks ago. It was not Fanning's fault, however, but rather erratic support on the part of his team mates.

Six misplays were chalked up against the Indees, one of these being a wild throw by Fanning himself, which cost one run. The visitors earned two of their six runs while the Indees earned all three of theirs.

While the locals were making their six errors of commission and several of omission, the visitors played without an error. They did some good fielding too, and chalked up two double plays, one a sizzler when Moakley leaped into the air and brought down Kohloff's line drive and doubled Ruble off first.

The brightest spot in the fielding, however, was a grab by DeFrates of Richards' grounder in the sixth. DeFrates bluffed Moakley who was on second back to that bag and then by a perfect peg got Richards at first.

Dove yielded nine hits to the locals. He was badly off form, more so in fact than we ever saw him. However, he got away with it and was tight in the pinches. Myers Brothers touched Fanning for 12 hits. In the fourth Fanning put on some extra steam and retired the three batters on strikes.

Myers Brothers broke the ice first in the second when three singles and a wild throw put over one run. Two singles and a steal of home by Alberts gave the visiting team two in the third.

The Indees scored their first run in the fourth. After Massinkoff and Wheeler had fanned, Boyd's triple and Ruble's double put over a run. A base on balls to Massinkoff, his steal of second, Wheeler's triple and a passed ball tied the score in the sixth.

Then the teams battled on even terms until the tenth when two singles, a sacrifice and Henderson's miff of Lascody's long drive scored three runs and put the game on ice. The score:

YANKEE NINE WINS IN OVERTIME GAME
Locals Defeat Naples 8 to 6 in Ten Inning Battle—Both Teams Play Air Tight Ball, and Yanks go Thru Without an Error.

The Yankee Athletic Club nine won a hard fought ten inning game from Naples Sunday at Naples by the score of 8 to 6. One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the game. This evening up the games between the Yankees and Naples, Naples having won the last game 1 to 0. The Yankees will play the third game at Naples August 22nd at the L. O. O. F. and Rebecca lodge picnic.

The game yesterday was featured by air tight playing on the part of both teams. The Yankees never had an error while Naples had but one miscue. Devil pitched in fine form allowing only 6 hits the eight innings he pitched. Hit batsmen, coupled with walks and hits giving Naples their runs. Barnes who took the mound for Jacksonville in the ninth with three on and no outs and the score standing 5 to 4 in the Yankees favor, pitched in excellent form. E. Davis pitching for Naples was knocked from the rubber in the second when the Yankees bunched hits for five runs. E. Davis finished the balance of the game and pitched tight baseball until the 10th when the Yankees bunched hits for 3 runs putting the game on ice.

The ankees wish to announce that due to an error the statement was made a week ago and that in the game with Petersburg Boxerman was knocked out in the first inning, while in fact he retired for other reasons.

The Yankees will probably play the Arenzville Grays at Arenzville next Sunday and a hard game can be expected as Arenzville won the last game 10 to 9 in eleven innings. Any teams wishing games with the Yankees can book same by writing Manager Wm. Wagner, 502 East North Street, Jacksonville Yankees.

FAST GOLF PLAYED AT MAYFIELD CLUB

Sweetser Establishes Officially His Course Record of 68—Evans Seven Strokes Behind.

MAYFIELD Country Club, Cleveland, O., July 23.—Over the difficult and beautiful links of the Mayfield Country Club fast golf was played today in the first qualifying round of the Western Amateur Championship and it fell to Jesse Sweetser of New York national amateur champion, not only to lead the field by three strokes, but to establish officially his course record of 68, first scored Sunday in practice.

Chick Evans, defending champion for the seventh time, was seven strokes behind Sweetser, who defeated him at Boston last year in the national event. The Chicagoan went out in a fine 35, one under, despite the fact that three puts jumped out of the cup after being in but he played ruggedly on the second nine, taking 40 for a 75 altho he had two birdie two holes. The nearest competitor Sweetser had in his better than par run was Captain E. F. Carter of Chicago, formerly Irish champion, who scored 35-36-71. Ned Sawyer of New York who established the previous record of 69 for Mayfield six years ago and who won the western title here in 1906 playing with Carter, took 76 today.

There were 33 scores of 78 or better today, indicating that it would require 156 to qualify for match play if the scoring should continue as low tomorrow in the second 18 holes of qualification play. Eleven golfers had 79 today, making 44 who shot better than 80 over the 6,470 yard links made fast by dry weather but created exceedingly difficult by nature and man, scarcely a fairway without its woods, dates and slides slopes and only a few greens without tantalizing undulation for the golfer to solve.

Sweetser was straight as an arrow from the tree in almost every instance, getting good distance and placing his shots with accuracy. He did not cut his iron as crisp as possible but they always held the carpet and they putted steadily, but not speculatively. Once in accumulating four birdies and an eagle, he slipped on direction getting into the stony bedded creek on the fourteenth and breaking his nibble in getting out but he proved his power of recovery for he not only got out but scored a par four on the 400 yard hole.

Eddie Held of St. Louis, trans-Mississippi champion and two others scored 73s while Ira Couch of Chicago, was the only contestant to score 74. Six players tied Evans 75, including Dave O'Connor of Chicago.

M. L. Vicle of Rock Island, Ill. with 81 and Jerry McQuade of Peoria with 84, were among today's leaders.

YEAR'S RECORD HEAT IS TROTTED TODAY

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—(By The A. P.)—The fastest heat of the year for a two year old was trotted at today's opening of the Columbus Grand Circuit Meet by Guy Richards, who won the 2:18 trot, the first heat of which he covered in 2:09 1/2, bettering by half a second the record made at Kalamazoo last week by Mr. McElwyn.

Another favorite suffered defeat today in the Neil House stake for 2:06 trotters which was won by Baron Worthy in straight heats. Periscope, the favorite, tired in the first heat and in the next two did not have the brush to win. McGregor The Great, second choice, broke in the first heat and could not quite reach in the next two.

Single G, after a layoff of two weeks following an accident in Cleveland, was a straight heat winner in the free-for-all pace. Merriman, first choice, won the 2:11 pace in straight heats without a great deal of effort.

Eddie Held of St. Louis, trans-Mississippi champion and two others scored 73s while Ira Couch of Chicago, was the only contestant to score 74. Six players tied Evans 75, including Dave O'Connor of Chicago.

APPOINT COMMITTEES FOR ELK TOURNAMENT

Rules Made at Meeting Monday
—Golf Contest Will be Staged in Next Six Weeks.

At a meeting held Monday of the general committee appointed to arrange for an Elk's Golf Tournament, plans were outlined for playing of this tournament
during the next six weeks.

The qualifying rounds will be played prior to August 6th, at noon on which date all scores must be reported. The scores for the qualifying round will be based on 36 holes, medal play,
and may be played at any time
prior to August 6th, but each player must declare his round before starting play and must have his score card so noted by his opponent when such rounds are played. Four games of nine holes each played at different times may be turned in if the player so desires.

When the scores are turned in for the qualifying round the players will be arranged in groups or flights based on the totals reported. The names of players will then be drawn at random in each flight and the players matched. Through the flights eighteen holes of match play will govern and one week will be allowed for the playing of each match. The finals in each flight will be determined on 36 holes of match play.

Suitable prizes will be awarded to winners and runners-up in each flight and also a prize
awarded for the lowest medal score. A silver loving cup will be provided for the winner and runner-up in the first flight.
This cup will remain the property of the Elk's Club and each year the name of the winner and runner-up will be engraved on it, as it is planned to make the Elk's Tournament an annual event.

All scores must be handed in to any member of the score committee or left with the secretary
at the Elk's club.

A large score board will be installed at the club and names of players and scores will be posted as the match progresses. There are more than eighty members of the Elk's club who play golf and a full turn out has been promised.

Some special rules regarding play in this tournament will be posted at the Club room and each player should consult these rules before playing his match.

The following committees have been appointed to superintend
the playing of this tournament:

Market Report

By The Associated Press

CHANGES IN STOCKS CONTINUING SMALL

FINANCIAL.
Total stock sales 456,000
shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 91.58; net gain .19.
High 1923—105.38; lower
$7.61.
Twenty railroads averaged 79.98; net loss .77.
High 1923—90.63; low
76.85.
Total bond sales (par value)
$7,464,000.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Net
changes in today's stock market
which was on a smaller volume than recently, were not large.
The course of prices was highly irregular.

A sizable list of miscellaneous
stocks closed a point or more higher, while railroad shares after opening somewhat higher sold off in the last half hour.

Professional traders concentrated an early attack against the oil shares using a one-cent cut in gasoline prices as the leverage.

Most of those stocks, however, recovered later. Losses in the rail group ranged from a point to 3 1/2.

Some of the sugar stocks sold lower on announcement of a slight cut in commodity prices
but closing prices were mixed.

Cuban-American Sugar preferred moved 3 1/2 points while Cuban cane sugar preferred was off 2 1/2.

The same independent course
was noted in the tobacco market. The market for the usual leaders was extremely narrow. Studebaker and United States Steel closing fractionally lower.

Call money rates were easier,
opening and closing at 4 1/2 per cent and easing to 4 1/4 in the last hour. A few time loans were made at 5 1/4 per cent. Commercial paper was quiet with rates unchanged at 5 to 5 1/2 per cent.

Bond prices held relatively steady in only moderately active trading.

Active United States government bonds moved within a narrow market and closed practically unchanged.

RESIDENTS OF CITY
BAPTIZED IN RIVER

R. v. Howells Immersed two Candidates Sunday Evening in Illinois River near Meredosia—Number of Local Baptists in Attendance.

Three car loads of Baptists
drove from Jacksonville to Willow Beach, near Meredosia, for a baptismal service in the Illinois
river late Sunday afternoon.
Since the personal work campaign
in April at the First Baptist Church, two candidates who preferred a running stream to a baptistry, have been awaiting baptism. This took place about sunset on last Sunday at Willow Beach, the pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rev. A. P. Howells officiating. The candidates were Miss Ruth Howerton and Alfred Leake. A large number of campers and tourists formed a respectful audience as the sacred rites were being performed.

PRACTICAL SERMON
PLEASES AUDIENCE

Another large audience assembled on the lawn in front of Grace church Sunday evening to enjoy the union services. The music by the orchestra was excellent and greatly enjoyed by all who heard the accomplished musicians while the music led by Homer Wood and his solo, the parable of the two men who went into the temple to pray, were both well received.

Rev. C. D. Robertson presided and called on Dr. Spoons to read the scripture lesson and Rev. W. H. March to offer prayer. A collection was taken then the account of the Master's was presented and gave an earnest discourse taking as his theme the account of the Master's temptation He was heard throughout with closest attention and his words made a profound impression on all who heard him.

The speaker discussed each of the three temptations of Jesus
from a practical standpoint,
making application to present day life, and to take the stone made into bread rather than the bread of Life. In like manner, pride and ambition lead to yielding to temptation. The temptations of Jesus are presented to every individual today and are ever before us in some form to lead us away from the spiritual world.

Frank Plouer, one of the board with Mr. Plouer, to investigate the plan further as to cost, details of the catalogue, and methods of its distribution.

milk, are told in a bulletin issued by the state department of health. The bulletin said:
"Numerous chemical substances have the power of destroying or inhibiting bacterial growth in milk, but because of their toxicity are strictly prohibited in the United States. Preservatives
which were formerly much used were borax, boracic acid, salicylic acid and formaldehyde and sus-tances containing chlorine.

Destroy by Heat.

"Different types of bacteria are killed by varying degrees of heat applied for various lengths of time. The time and temperature necessary to kill a particular strain of organism is known as its "Thermal" death point. Fortunately, the thermal death point of pathogenic bacteria is relatively low.

"Pasteurized milk points out
this fact by destroying disease
producing bacteria at a temperature low enough to avoid injuring the nutritive properties of the milk.

"The tubercle bacillus is destroyed at a temperature of 145
degrees F. maintained for twenty minutes. Harmful streptococci
are killed in thirty minutes at a temperature of 140 degrees F.
A temperatures of 145 degrees F.
will positively kill all disease producing bacteria. Spore formed bacteria may resist temperatures even as high as boiling but fortunately, no harmful bacteria
in milk are of this variety.

"Bacteria are not killed by cold. Their growth is checked at varying low temperatures but retain vitality and again proliferate
when conditions become favorable."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who assisted me so kindly during the illness and after the death of my beloved husband, also for the many beautiful flowers.

Mrs. J. T. Johnson.

Mervin Ator was among the callers from Arnold Monday.

FORD STOLEN ON SATURDAY EVENING

A Ford touring car, belonging to Ashford Ator of Grove street,
was stolen about 8 o'clock Saturday evening from in front of the court house where it had been parked by Mr. Ator's son, Floyd.
The young man had left the car
but a short time and had been in the Drexel barber shop. When he came out and found the car gone he at first thought that his father had come by, and seeing his car, had driven off in it. He called home and found that his parents knew nothing of the machine. The matter was reported to the police but no clue of the missing auto has been found.

Mrs. Otto Bensonberg of Moline, who has been visiting relatives in Chanderville, was a city shopper yesterday.
